ALL WELCOME

The English Literature Third-year course, 'Women Writers of Britain and America,' was launched in 1984/5 by Dr Alison Easton and Dr Tess Cosslett. To celebrate its quarter-century, we have invited Professor Mary Eagleton to come and speak about the success of the new Oxford University Press journal, Contemporary Women's Writing, for which she is co-editor.

Dr Easton and Dr Cosslett will also attend the lecture and award a special 'Anniversary' Prize for this year's 'best' 302 essay. Although the lecture will take place in the normal 302 lecture slot, all interested staff and students are very welcome to attend.
