

1992-3 – Ruskin and Environment

Autumn Term

- 15 October Michael Wheeler (Lancaster University)
Apocalypse historicized: reading Ruskin To-day
- 22 October RUSKIN LECTURE
Brian Hanson (Prince of Wales's Institute of Architecture)
Ruskin and the architects
- 29 October Discussion on: Praeterita, ch. 11, 'L'hotel du Mont Blanc'
- 5 November Paul Wilson (Lancaster University)
'The Aegis of Athena': myth and science in The Queen of the Air
- 12 November Stuart Evans (Central St Martin's College of Art and Design)
Ruskin and the Century Guild of Artists
- 19 November Brian Maidment (Edge Hill College)
Ruskin and the language of the city (Fiction, Fair and Foul)
- 26 November Graham Parry (York University)
Praeterita
- 3 December Gill Chitty (Lancaster University)
John Ruskin and the guardianship of the historic environment
- 10 December Review and planning

Lent Term

- 14 January Jeanne Clegg (Pisa)
'To descry new lands': Ruskin in Val d'Arno
- 21 January Roy Mellor (Lancaster University)
Ruskin as preacher
- 28 January Discussion on Fiction, Fair and Foul, chapter 2
(led by Keith Hanley)
- 4 February Alan Wellburn (Lancaster University)
Perceptions of pollution
- 11 February Pia Haertinger (Augsburg)
Education of the eye: a critical sightseeing tour with John Ruskin through our man-made environment
- 18 February Paul Tucker (Pisa)
Ruskin and Tuscany

- 25 February Alan Holland (Lancaster University)
Environmental values
- 4 March Phillip Mallett (St Andrew's University)
Ruskin's perspective in the urban environment
- 11 March Jose Harris (St Catherine's College, Oxford)
Ruskin and Victorian social policy
- 18 March Marion McClintock (Lancaster University)
Ruskin at Brantwood: ecologist or egotist?

Summer Term

- 29 April Denis Cosgrove (Loughborough University)
A geographical reading The Storm Cloud of the Nineteenth Century
- 6 May Caroline Blyth (Research student, Queen's College, Oxford)
Ruskin's Clouds
- 13 May John Walton (Lancaster University)
Ruskin and the origins of the National Trust