

---

Tax-free pedalling

Sir, Hugo Rifkind feels “his tax-free bike” is acceptable as tax avoidance because the government “badly wanted me to have one” (Mar 30).

History shows that state approval is a dangerous criterion for moral justification.

G. R. STEELE
Halton, Lancs

The Times

31 March 2012

---