

Counter Knowledge Lab

Making Global Civil Society: Grassroots Practice and Academic Theory of Globalisation from Below.

A weekend gathering for collective reflection
amongst activists and academics.
November 4, 5 & 6 - 2005.
Lancaster University, North West England.

The aim of the gathering is to discuss key aspects of the historical development of the capitalist economy that drives globalisation from above - such as enclosures, (precarious) labour, structural violence, colonialism, and their justifying cultural imagery – and to make visible alternative architectures of social organisation emerging through the processes of globalisation from below, that is, through grassroots movements cooperating to create a global civil society based on human rights and mutual aid, and to restore the (intellectual) commons, in the street, on the land, and in cyberspace. Food will be happy, mainly local, and organic. Zapatista coffee, herbal teas, as well as spaces for informal debate, discussion and chit chat will be provided. We will also organise film screenings :)

Sessions include:

- x Melting the Academia:Activism Border
- x How can we build a different world: Theory for Action
- x Mobilisation & Mobility
- x Commodification and Resistance in Theory and Practice
- x Social Organisation and the Movement of Movements
- x Land & Community
- x Networking Feminism
- x Global Civil Society: Concepts and Issues
- x Action Research and Self-Organisation in the Margin
- x Counter-Spin: Remembering and Presenting the Movement
- x Anti-Capitalism and the Workplace: The University as a Site of Struggle

More information:

<http://knowledgelab.pbwiki.com>
n.moeller@lancaster.ac.uk

Counter Knowledge Lab

Making Global Civil Society: Grassroots Practice and Academic Theory of Globalisation from Below.

A weekend gathering for collective reflection
amongst activists and academics.
November 4, 5 & 6 - 2005.
Lancaster University, North West England.

The aim of the gathering is to discuss key aspects of the historical development of the capitalist economy that drives globalisation from above - such as enclosures, (precarious) labour, structural violence, colonialism, and their justifying cultural imagery – and to make visible alternative architectures of social organisation emerging through the processes of globalisation from below, that is, through grassroots movements cooperating to create a global civil society based on human rights and mutual aid, and to restore the (intellectual) commons, in the street, on the land, and in cyberspace. Food will be happy, mainly local, and organic. Zapatista coffee, herbal teas, as well as spaces for informal debate, discussion and chit chat will be provided. We will also organise film screenings :)

Sessions include:

- x Melting the Academia:Activism Border
- x How can we build a different world: Theory for Action
- x Mobilisation & Mobility
- x Commodification and Resistance in Theory and Practice
- x Social Organisation and the Movement of Movements
- x Land & Community
- x Networking Feminism
- x Global Civil Society: Concepts and Issues
- x Action Research and Self-Organisation in the Margin
- x Counter-Spin: Remembering and Presenting the Movement
- x Anti-Capitalism and the Workplace: The University as a Site of Struggle

More information:

<http://knowledgelab.pbwiki.com>
n.moeller@lancaster.ac.uk