

Sunday Lunch

After worship, we usually have lunch in the Chaplaincy Lounge / Restaurant, sometimes a cooked meal, sometimes bread and cheese. Cost ranges between £1-3. It is a great opportunity to meet and to get to know one another. A vegetarian option is always available, if you have other dietary requirements, please talk to one of the chaplains and we will try and meet your needs.

Regular Weekday Activities:

Worship at Chaplaincy

Welcome to the Anglican & Free Church (AFC) Chapel. Our Sunday Morning Worship begins at 11.30am. Our community is made up of people from many different Christian groups and our worship seeks to incorporate aspects of that diversity. Some things will be as you might expect and are familiar with, but others may be different and may be totally new to you. Please participate in the worship as you feel able, but don't feel you must do things which you are not comfortable with - perhaps talk to someone afterwards if you would like to know more about things which are new to you. The opening of our worship, usually begins jointly with the Roman Catholics in the concourse area between the chapels.

This term, we are following a series titled "Lifematters". Throughout the term we will be looking at issues which we face in our lives in our contemporary world. We will explore these topics with reference to the Bible, to history and to our own experiences. The services will all be 'stand-alone' (it won't matter if you miss one!). Feel free to talk to one of the chaplains after worship, or during the week if you have questions about the worship, if you want to talk about the Christian faith, or if you have any other concerns.

Reflect to Reflect

Sundays 7pm, AFC Chapel

Reflect is a quiet evening service where you can pause for a while at the end of one week and the start of another. Using music and prayers from the church across the world (Taize, Iona etc.), we aim to provide an opportunity to stop for a while, and worship God through the ancient practice of evening prayer.

Reflect happens in the AFC Chapel at 7pm on Sunday evenings, and people from any faith background are welcome to attend.

What can you do?

The AFC Chapel is different from most churches because our congregation changes every year, if not every week! As a result, we need people to help us to be the church on campus which God is calling us to be. Without the help of new students each year, we could not function. If you have a gift - we need you! Perhaps you enjoy talking to people - we need people to be stewards and welcomers. Perhaps you enjoy doing drama, writing meditations or prayers, playing music - we need you to make our worship creative. Perhaps you are passionate about social justice - you can help us to remain committed to God's world and all God's people. Perhaps you enjoy organising and planning - there are various roles on the Chapel Committee which help to make the chapel run smoothly and to plan various events through the year. Complete the chapel registration form, talk to one of the chaplains or one the committee members to find out more about how to get involved.
